

IN AND ABOUT THE COURTS

SUPERIOR COURT VERY BUSY YESTERDAY.

Duncan Hall Injunction Dissolved.
Reagan Murder Case Comes to Trial
Next Week—Suit Against F. H. & W. R. R.—Many Other Cases.

Judge Hubbard of the common pleas court yesterday afternoon handed down a decision in the Duncan hall injunction case. It was the case of Frank Ferrin, manager of Duncan Hall, against John T. Sloan, agent for the property. Sloan attempted to put James F. Toole in as manager and Perrin got out an injunction to restrain him. The injunction was dissolved.

The court says that Perrin has adequate legal remedy on his claim under a contract.

REAGAN MURDER CASE.
The case against John Capela, colored, charged with criminally abusing Sadie Capela, was nolleed, and Capela was excused from court.

REFORM SCHOOL ARSON CASES.
The three inmates at the state reform school at Meriden who are accused of setting fire to the institution on the night of March 20 last, went on trial yesterday morning before Judge Shumway and a jury in the criminal side of the superior court. The youths are Joseph Robinson, Edward Knapp and Louis Moxlasky. They are charged with arson.

It is claimed by the evidence that the reason why the boys fired the school, if they are guilty, was in order to escape from confinement during the confusion following the starting of the fire. It was stated that this was their only reason for committing the deed.

The fire started in the kitchen at 7 o'clock in the evening and was put out before much damage was done. The boys were captured.

Superintendent Williams of the reform school was on the stand and told about the starting of the fire.

Attorney A. Maxey Hiller of this city and Attorney Murphy of Danbury defended the boys, who pleaded not guilty.

SUIT OF THE GRILLEY CO.
Judge William S. Case of the superior court heard further testimony yesterday in the suit of the Grilley company against John O. Shores of Hamden in which there is a dispute over the use of molds and tools used in the manufacture of harness trimmings. Mr. Shores exhibited in court the tools in question, denying that he had in any way secured them from the Grilley company as claimed in the suit.

CRIMINALS SENTENCED.
Annie Cooley and Henry J. Camp, both colored, were yesterday brought up for sentence for stealing $455 from Charles Eaton of Ansonia. They were found guilty by the jury, and referring to the woman State Attorney Williams yesterday asked for a heavy penalty. "She is a thoroughly bad woman," said Mr. Williams, "and has been in the habit of getting men drunk and robbing them." Judge Shumway sentenced the woman to not less than one and

WEAR AND FIT.

The strongest argument we can give in favor of our Misses' and Children's Shoes is the Wear and Fit. We are just as careful to have the little ones well fitted as their elders. We aim to have the feet entrusted to our care, when they have gotten their growth without blemish, free from corns, bunions and enlarged toe joints. Don't put narrow toe shoes onto growing feet. The toes should be wide and the last rather straight on the inside, with a medium outside swing, thick through on inside ball and thin on the outside. The shoes should be the shape of the foot, not have the foot shape the shoe.

one-half years in state prison, nor more than two and one half years. Camp, whom Mr. Williams designated as a willing tool, was given six months in jail. Joseph Evans, a former New Haven boy, who was charged with the same offense, was freed from court Tuesday afternoon by his case being nolleed.

Justice Grove J. Tuttle. Two barbers and a shoemaker have their place of business in the same building, and there was some trouble in their relations which led up to a fight on April 15. The names of the accused are Santy and Antonio Eppellita and Jo. Cipolla.

One of the witnesses who saw the fight said that two of the men were locked together rolling on the ground, and they rolled over a two foot fence like a hoop snake.

Antonio Eppellita and Jo. Cipolla were fined $1, which with costs, amounted to about $20 in each case. Judgment was suspended in the case of Santy Eppellita.

ORITARY NOTES.
Charles O. Davis.

Charles O. Davis, fifty-six years old, a machinist employed at the railroad shops and living at 92 Cedar street, was found dead in bed yesterday morning by members of the family. Heart failure was found to have been the cause of death. When his father arose yesterday morning at 7 o'clock he left his son apparently sleeping, but a few moments later when an attempt was made to awaken him he was found cold in death. Acting Medical Examiner Elliot gave permission for the burial.

MRS. CHARLES HERRMANN.
Mrs. Charles Herrmann, aged twenty-nine years, was found dead in bed by her husband in their apartments in the International hotel, conducted by Frank Murphy, the Italian, in Union street, yesterday morning. She had been ill for two weeks with a stomach trouble and other ailments. Herrmann is employed by Peck & Bishop and is a steady workman, very much attached to his wife, whom he married two years ago. Mrs. Herrmann was educated at the high school in this city. Her maiden name was Mabel Ruvch, and her home in New York city. Her mother died when she was about ten years old and later her father sent her to this city, where she attended the high school, and lived with friends. After completing her studies at school, she returned to New York and lived with her father for a year or so. Later she came to New Haven and was employed in private families as tutor and governess. She married Herrmann about two years ago.

MRS. CHRISTINA CLARK.
Mrs. Christina Clark of Columbus avenue died, as was stated in this paper yesterday morning, Wednesday night at the Grace hospital. The deceased had been suffering for a long time, but not until last Friday was she seriously ill. The late Mrs. Clark was the wife of George Clark, and the daughter of Andrew Tullock. She was born in Scotland in 1838, and a number of years ago came to this country and New Haven. She was a sister of Captain Tullock of Spring street and leaves a sister, Miss Margaret Tullock. The funeral will be held to-day and the interment will be in the Evergreen cemetery.

MRS. JENNIE McGOVERN.
The funeral of Jennie, widow of Andrew McGovern, took place from her late residence, 106 Fillmore street, yesterday morning at 8:30, and from St. Francis church at 9, where a high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Blake. The pallbearers were Martin Martin, Thomas Doran, Michael Doody, John Brennan, James Hannan, Bernard Connelly. Interment was in St. Lawrence cemetery.

TIMOTHY SULLIVAN.
The funeral of Timothy Sullivan, who died from injuries sustained by falling from a team, was held from his late residence, No. 16 Jefferson street, at half-past eight yesterday morning and from a regular high mass at the St. Patrick's church at nine o'clock. The mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father O'Brien and the interment was in the family plot in the St. Bernard cemetery.

CONSTITUTIONAL OAK.
To be Planted in Commemoration of the Convention.

Colonel Osborn has received the subscription letter from the bureau of plant industry of the United States department of agriculture.

Washington, D. C., April 21, 1902.

Norris G. Osborn, New Haven, Conn., has been elected to the position of "constitutional oak" to be planted in commemoration of the constitutional convention held this year in Connecticut. Full directions for planting will be found accompanying the tree.

Trusting that the tree will arrive safely and that it will long serve as a record of the work done, I remain Yours respectfully,

B. T. Galloway, Chief of Bureau.

The letter was shown to President Henry T. Blake of the park commission, with a request for suggestions as to the disposition of the "constitutional oak." Mr. Blake said with a smile that as the constitutional convention now being held in Hartford had been favorably and promised to maintain that character to the end, the planting of an oak to commemorate the work of that body might be regarded as satirical.

"However," continued Mr. Blake, "I think it would be proper to plant the oak with due ceremony. It will at least mark an epoch in the history of constitution making in this state. When Colonel Osborn receives the plant, if he notifies the park commission, we shall take care of it until such time as the court of common council shall determine whether the city shall accept it and shall designate the park in which it may be planted."

ORANGE STREET LINE.
It was reported yesterday that New Haven and Hartford capitalists have formed a stock company with $50,000 capital ready to be paid in to conduct an automobile sale and storage business in the two cities and between the same. The concern will also revive the Orange street auto line in this city. It is expected.

BEFORE JUDGE BRYANT.
A youth named Henry Taylor was arraigned before Judge Bryant in the West Haven town court yesterday morning on the charge of breach of the peace. For some time boys have been in the habit of annoying the Chinese laundryman, whose place of business is on Campbell avenue, not far from the town hall. Judgment on Taylor's case has been withheld by the court.

THE RISE IN NEW HAVEN STOCK.

It's Jump. Yesterday to 237. Various Rumors—What President Hall Says.

There was considerable interest in town yesterday among the stockholders of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company over the continued rise of the price of shares of the stock yesterday. It reached 237 and has had altogether about 17 points rise in two or three weeks. The rise is attributed to the various rumors and reports of late that the great Pennsylvania road was either to have close traffic relations with the New Haven road or was moving to lease the New Haven road. President Hall when enquired of yesterday afternoon about the matter said that there was nothing in the report whatever.

"I do not see," he added, "how the Pennsylvania road can secure a lease or any rights in our terminal facilities at Boston. I have no knowledge of these rumors and I cannot account for them."

Arthur D. Osborne, a director of the New Haven road, was also interviewed in regard to the truth of the report. He said that he knew of nothing official regarding the plans of the New Haven and Pennsylvania road except what he had seen in the daily papers.

The jump in the price of the New Haven stock was accelerated according to

TWO MEN AND A DOG.
There were two of us, both dyspeptics and business men, walking together the other day. A dog dashed past us after something he saw on the sidewalk. It was a good sized chunk of meat some one had dropped, probably. The dog pointed on it and gobbled it down in a jiffy. My friend (worth five millions) looked at him in envious admiration. "You brave old doggie," he said. "I'll give you a hundred thousand in Central first mortgage bonds for your appetite and your digestion." But that dog knew what life is made of, he declined the deal and trotted off.

A great doctor—a gourmet and a dyspeptic himself—says: "Gout, rheumatism, diabetes, Bright's disease, rickets, scrofula, melancholia and consumption are only forms of dyspepsia." A broad statement, but true. The human body, like all other animal bodies, is merely a digesting machine. When that process goes wrong presently all the functions of the body go wrong.

No end of things are recommended for indigestion, but the best of them beyond comparison is Mother Seigel's Syrup. It has been the stand-by in Europe for twenty-five years, and is praised in every language spoken between Archangel and the Toe of the Boot. Use it faithfully and you can eat anything without chronic dyspepsia into fair women and brave men. It is used in the cold mountains of Scandinavia and carried by Tommy Atkins to the veldt of South Africa. And there is nothing the matter with it anywhere in the patchwork climate of the United States. Try it yourself.

Mrs. Granger did, and writes: "Was visiting in England five years ago and my system was run down. Had a miserable, tired, worn-out feeling all the time. My friends told me of the wonderful curative powers of Seigel's Syrup and advised me to try it. Took four bottles and felt better than I had for years. Would highly recommend it to any one feeling as I did. I think Mother Seigel's Syrup is a splendid medicine. Brought half dozen bottles home with me.—Mrs. W. Granger, Dixwell Avenue, New Haven, Conn., April 8, 1902. Sold at druggists."

HEAVEN.
Ye speak of Heaven, as 'twere some distant plain
Beyond the stars; aye, think ye so, 'tis well;
But, while this earth is man's, whereon to dwell
And beauty, dream not too long; 'tis vain
If he seek that love thy feeble soul;
Be thou thy vision; tears and clouds dispel,
And sin upon thy brother's face again,
As 'twere lost hope; and giving shall receive.

A golden peace for sharing brings
The eternal joy that mortals would achieve.
'Tis not the singer, but the song he sings,
Infused with soulful sounds, makes men believe
That Heaven is sympathy and Love its wings.
